

Hello traders, [Guru Name] here.

I have an important message for you today regarding an all-too-common mistake that many traders are making. Unfortunately, most traders don't have their brokerage account setup properly.

In addition.... there's one thing specifically that I've always found extremely difficult to navigate through... Taxes. After being educated on the most recent tax-reform, I've come to find out the tax implications for each type of brokerage account have drastically changed.

When it comes to setting up your account, there are only three options:

Option number #1. You can set up your account as an INDIVIDUAL.

Option #2, you can set your account up as a CORPORATE account.

Option #3. You can set it up as a RETIREMENT account.

The vast majority of traders operating through a taxable funded brokerage account are tied to it as individuals. Which gives them close to zero tax advantages.

With the proper LLC structure, you can actually set up your brokerage account as a Corporate account, which gives you massive tax advantages!

Prime Corporate Services is the tax firm that taught me this and got me up to date with the tax reform changes. Which is also why I've decided to partner up with them!

Now, the cool agreement we've worked out with them is they're going to set you up with a Trading LLC and only charge you for state fees and hard costs.

If your brokerage account isn't currently set up with a trading LLC, 99% chance it should be.
